Hello Parents,

Today in class I gave each of my students a copy of their current grade from Aspire. I notified them of their missing work and set deadlines for missing work to be turned in. Please check with your child on their progress and make sure they are completing their missing work. They have each been working hard and overall we have been off to a great start this year.

What We Are Learning

This week we will be finishing in reading The Downsiders both in class and at home. The students will have Chapter Questions due at the end of the week. We are continuing to work on their Argumentative Essays. This week they are outlining their reasonings and incorporating evidence they found during their research.
